Thanks to your generous donations, the Lake District Foundation has awarded funding to the following local projects that help to keep the landscape, wildlife and cultural heritage of the Lake District and Cumbria special.

The Adopt a Beck Project will improve the habitat of Dash beck for a range of wildlife, particularly salmon and trout, and improve the safety and accessibility of the footpath from Bassenthwaite village to the lake.

The Making it Count for Wildlife project will review and identify the priorities and strategies for caring for our wildlife in Cumbria. This project will help us to ensure that future funding is invested in the best possible places and projects, and with the right people involved to deliver benefits for wildlife, place and people.

The Haweswater Woodland Planting Project will plant 400 individually protected native trees on a carefully selected area of Mardale Common, extending the existing ancient woodland and contributing to the resilience of the iconic Lake District landscape.

The Lakeland Arctic-Alpine Vegetation Restoration Project aims to increase the populations of threatened and restricted numbers of arctic-alpine species on the crags of the Helvellyn range.

Community Heritage will deliver a series of community workshops throughout Cumbria which will help residents understand and take ownership of the Cultural Heritage of the Lake District World Heritage Site.
